Source: Justin Farrell, Paul Berne Burow, Kathryn McConnell, Jude Bayham, Kyle Whyte, Gal Koss, "Effects of land dispossession and forced migration on Indigenous peoples in North America," Science, October 29, 2021.

Estimated land area (coextensive)

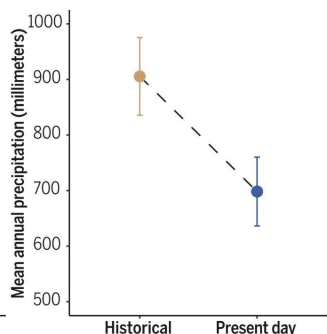

As a result of land dispossession and forced migration, Indigenous peoples now face increased climate vulnerability, diminished economic value of their lands, and for some tribes, restrictive federal land management regimes... Science can never quantify the depth of social and cultural trauma, economic deprivation, and political marginalization of losing entire land bases and ecosystems. But the results here contribute fundamental knowledge about the factors that produced current inequities and future risks and should be especially useful for creating policies for restitution.
